

WorkForce Compliance Portal

Human resource professionals are on the frontlines of all employee-related issues. They have to contend with an ever-changing landscape of regulatory concerns and ensure that the guidance they provide to managers and employees alike is both timely and accurate.

Whether you're a mid-sized employer with a workforce housed within a single campus or a large employer with a workforce scattered across multiple states, it can be a challenge to ensure that all members of your HR team provide consistent and repeatable advice across the business. Handbooks and other similar static resources are a good start, but developing and delivering such a piece of literature—or even updating and maintaining a corporate intranet for this information—can be a time-consuming task.

The WorkForce Compliance Portal offers an ideal solution to this unique challenge by delivering access to a simple and straightforward HR information resource.
